

NATIONAL » KERALA

Published: June 3, 2016 00:00 IST | Updated: June 3, 2016 05:44 IST KANNUR, June 3, 2016

Girl-friendly e-toilets launched

- Special Correspondent

The district panchayat's project to provide girl-friendly electronic toilets in 26 government schools in the district was formally inaugurated by P.K. Sreemathy, MP, at the Valapattanam Higher Secondary School here on Thursday.

The electronic toilets are equipped with napkin vending machines and napkin destroyers to ensure clean, safe and hygienic toilet facilities for the girl students, district panchayat officials said.

The e-toilets for general public are also installed on the Kannur Science park, Government Commercial Institute, District Hospital and district panchayat premises.

Prefabricated

The e-toilet is a modular, prefabricated toilet made of steel, integrated with electronic systems to ensure cleanliness and hygiene for every user.

The district panchayat had evaluated the e-toilets installed in various other schools in the State before venturing on this ambitious project. Eram Scientific Solutions has provided e-toilets. A training programme on how to use and maintain e-toilets will also be held for teachers and students of the respective schools. ,

Printable version | Jun 4, 2016 10:08:37 AM | <http://www.thehindu.com/news/national/kerala/girlfriendly-etoilets-launched/article8684452.ece>

© The Hindu